Dear Adams,

McGill University, Montreal.

My dear Dean Adams:

As you know we have lost Dean Galbraith. Fortunately for us Dr. Ellis is willing to act as Dean until a permanent appointment can be made. Can you give me any suggestions as to suitable persons for this position? It is one of importance. The engineering and industrial development of Canada after this war will undoubtedly be great. We wish a man of experience who is sufficiently educated and broad minded to grasp a wide situation. If we can get a Canadian we should prefer to have one, otherwise we must do the best we can. For any help you can render me I shall be much indebted. Would you please keep this private?

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.

Dear Dr. Falconer,

I have just heard from Mr. Barclay that it would be more convenient for you to address the Canadian Club of Montreal on Monday, February 15th., than the next day as arranged. It would suit the Canadian Club much better to have the address on Monday, February 15th., seeing that Monday is the regular day on which the Club meets. Mr. Kinney has also arranged the evening of this day for the meeting of the Maritime Provinces Club, and, therefore, we have set you down in our list of speakers as delivering an address on Monday, Feby. 15th.

The Canadian Club holds its meetings in the Rose Room of the Windsor Hotel. We all lunch together at 1 p.m., and the speaker of the day commences his address at 1.30, the address lasting about 30 minutes.

If you are stopping over night in Montreal, it would be a great pleasure for Mrs. Adams and me to have you stay with us, if this would be convenient for you.

I shall be glad if you will let me have the title of your address as soon as possible, seeing that we issue our cards to the members well in advance of the actual meeting.

Looking forward to seeing you in Montreal on Feby.
15th., if not earlier,

I remain, Dear Dr. Falconer,

Yours very sincerely,

Dean Adams,

Faculty of Applied Science,

McGill University.

Dear Dean Adams:

I am very glad that the change of date to Monday, the 15th of February, suits the convenience of the Canadian Club, and that in kindly consenting to the change at my request I am falling in with your usual practice.

It would give me great pleasure to spend the night with Mrs. Adams and yourself, as you have so kindly invited me, but I think I shall go down by the Sunday night train and must return on Monday night, consequently I shall ~~only have~~ the day in Montreal.

The subject of my address will probably be "The Policies of Bismarck as preparing for the present war". If you have had any address on this subject before I shall endeavour to change it.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
